

DISTANT VOICES

Voices from the distant past carried through the winds of time

I can hear them now calling me to a place of Silence a place of Listening their stories untold their lives forgotten buried in the sands of time

I can feel their presence within me the ones with whom I have longed to connect they are the threads of many lifetimes that hold the space for us to be

*I sit here in Silence Wondering
Listening to their voices Knowing their messages will lead me Home*
